4eu+ EUROPEAN UNIVERSITY ALLIANCE

Annual Meeting 2026

WELCOME TO THE 4EU+ ANNUAL MEETING 2026!

We are delighted that Paris-Panthéon-Assas University is hosting this year's Annual Meeting.

This event has been awarded the "French G7 Presidency" label by the French Ministry for Europe and Foreign Affairs.

This brochure is designed to help you prepare for your participation and make the most of your time in Paris. Inside, you will find key information about the programme, venues, things to see and do, and getting around Paris.

EVENT PRACTICALITIES

- Most sessions will take place at the centre Assas (see event venues p.5) of Paris-Panthéon-Assas University. On your first day, present the save the date sent through email as it will allow you to have access to the centre Assas where you will collect your badge.
- The registration desk will be open for badge collection:
  - Wednesday, 28 October, from 8.30 to 18.00
  - Thursday, 29 October, from 8.30 to 16.00
  - Friday, 30 October, from 8.30 to 10.00

Please keep your badge with you at all times, as it will give you access to the different event venues, in and out of the university.

- Student volunteers and event staff will be available to assist you during the event. They will be identifiable by their red badges.
- A coatcheck will be available on site, by the entrance of the centre Assas. Please leave your luggage at your hotel, as we cannot store luggage at the event venues.
- Coffee breaks and lunches will be served in the Patio of centre Assas.
- The Annual Meeting will start at 12:50 on Wednesday, 28 October with a welcome speech, followed by lunch.
- The gala dinner will take place on Thursday, 29 October in the academic palace of the historic building of the Sorbonne hosted by the Chancellerie des universités de Paris. The dress code is cocktail attire.
- To access the Wi-Fi at Centre Assas, connect to the "Panthéon-Assas" network.

GETTING TO PARIS AND AROUND

Arriving by Plane

Paris-Panthéon-Assas University's Centre Assas is easily accessible from both Charles de Gaulle (CDG) and Orly airports. The nearest RER B station is Port-Royal, a short walk from the venue.

From Charles de Gaulle (CDG) Airport

Due to scheduled maintenance work, RER B services between Châtelet–Les Halles and Paris CDG are suspended from 10:00 p.m. on weekdays until 10 November 2026. Replacement buses are provided, but journey times may be longer. Please check the Bonjour RATP app for the latest information before travelling.

From Orly Airport

Take Metro line 14 to Châtelet, then change to RER B (South, direction Saint-Rémy-lès-Chevreuse or Robinson) and get off at Port-Royal.

Total travel time is approximately 40 minutes.

Arriving by Train

Paris is served by several major train stations. Your arrival station will depend on where you are travelling from. The centre Assas can be easily reached by public transport from all major stations.

From Gare du Nord

Take RER B (South, direction Saint-Rémy-lès-Chevreuse or Robinson) and get off at Port-Royal.

From there, walk approximately 10 minutes to the centre Assas.

From Gare de Lyon

Take metro line 14 towards Saint-Denis–Pleyel and get off at Châtelet. Change to RER B towards the south and get off at Port-Royal.

From there, walk approximately 10 minutes to the centre Assas.

From Gare de l'Est

Take metro line 4 towards Bagneux–Lucie Aubrac and get off at Odéon.

From there, walk approximately 10 minutes to the centre Assas.

Transport in Paris

Paris has an extensive and reliable public transport system, including the metro, buses, trams, and trains (RER).

Plan your journey

Use the Bonjour RATP app or Google Maps to check routes, travel times and any disruptions in real time.

Tickets

Public transport tickets can be purchased directly through the Bonjour RATP app or at metro and RER stations. Contactless payment is also available on the network for eligible journeys.

Metro/RER

Remember to keep your ticket or travel pass until you have completed your journey, as ticket checks can take place when exiting some stations.

Hours

The metro is usually the fastest way to get around, with frequent trains running from around 5:30 AM until about 1:15 AM (2:15 AM on Fridays and Saturdays).

Walking

Central Paris is relatively compact, and many of the Annual Meeting venues can easily be reached on foot.

Taxis/VTC

Official taxis and VTC services such as Uber are widely available. Allow extra time for traffic, especially during peak hours.

EXPLORING PARIS

Explore Odéon, the Luxembourg Gardens & the Latin Quarter

The Annual Meeting takes place at centre Assas, in the Odéon area of Paris's 6th arrondissement, just a short walk from the Luxembourg Gardens and the historic Latin Quarter. If you have some free time between sessions, the surroundings of Assas offer plenty of opportunities for a short walk, a coffee or a taste of Paris.

Jardin du Luxembourg

Just a short walk from Assas, the Luxembourg Gardens are ideal for a quiet break away from the conference. Take a stroll around the gardens, admire the Luxembourg Palace and its famous fountain, or simply sit on one of the traditional green chairs and enjoy the atmosphere.

Panthéon & place du Panthéon

Just a few minutes from the Assas campus, the Panthéon is one of Paris's most iconic monuments. Originally built as a church, it is now a national mausoleum honouring some of France's most prominent figures, including Victor Hugo, Voltaire, Marie and Pierre Curie and Simone Veil. The crypt and the monumental interior are worth a visit.

The Sorbonne & the Latin Quarter

Walk down rue Soufflot towards the Sorbonne and boulevard Saint-Michel to reach the heart of the historic Latin Quarter. The area is full of bookshops, cafés, small squares and historic university buildings. It is one of the liveliest and most characteristic areas of central Paris.

Rue Mouffetard & Place de la Contrescarpe

For a more lively Parisian atmosphere, head towards rue Mouffetard, one of the oldest streets in the neighbourhood. The surrounding streets are full of cafés, restaurants, food shops and small terraces — a good option for an informal lunch or an evening stroll.

Musée de Cluny National Museum of the Middle Ages

Located near boulevard Saint-Michel, the Musée de Cluny is a fascinating option for those interested in history and culture. It houses one of the world's major collections of medieval art, including the famous Lady and the Unicorn tapestries, as well as the remains of ancient Roman baths.

For Book Lovers

The Latin Quarter has a long literary and intellectual tradition. Browse the independent bookshops around rue des Écoles, rue de la Parcheminerie and boulevard Saint-Michel, or visit the famous English-language Shakespeare and Company near the Seine.

A Little Further: the Seine, Notre-Dame & Île de la Cité

If you have a couple of hours, continue downhill towards the Seine. From there, you can walk along the river towards Notre-Dame and Île de la Cité, passing some of the most beautiful views of central Paris. The Gothic Cathédrale Notre-Dame de Paris, Sainte-Chapelle and Conciergerie are particularly worthwhile for a longer visit.

Cultural visit

Participants who registered in advance will receive a Hop-On Hop-Off tourist bus ticket, valid for one full day and usable at any time until 1 November 2026, according to their preference.

The Tootbus Paris Discovery Tour will allow delegates to discover some of the most emblematic sites and monuments in Paris.

TO OUR PARTNERS AND SPONSORS

FONDATION PANTHÉON ASSAS

The Panthéon-Assas Foundation supports the development of Paris-Panthéon-Assas University and enhances its reputation in France and internationally by funding strategic and innovative projects through donations from corporate partners and private individuals.

The Foundation focuses on six key areas:

- Advancing research
- Promoting equal opportunities and diversity
- Encouraging international mobility
- Strengthening ties with socioeconomic partners
- Fostering entrepreneurship
- Building a university campus for the future

The university's relationships with the business community are central to this initiative. The foundation aims to strengthen these ties by fostering new synergies between alumni, professionals and the university.

Individuals and legal entities wishing to support the university may be eligible for a tax deduction.
